

Augeo Forms Partnership with Social Enterprise ME to WE Innovative caused-based program enables millions to convert loyalty currency into social good

ST. PAUL, Minn. – (March 26, 2019) – Augeo announced today an exclusive partnership with ME to WE, a social enterprise that creates socially conscious products and experiences to help support WE charity. From its headquarters in Toronto, CA, ME to WE enables people to do good through their everyday choices. As the leading engagement and loyalty company in the U.S. serving employees, customers, and members, Augeo runs programs for over 30 million people around the world.

The partnership will mean hundreds of loyalty programs running on the Augeo platform will offer new ways to convert points or other forms of loyalty currency into life-changing impacts in developing communities in Africa, South America and Asia. Current programs provide access to clean water, education, health, food security, and economic opportunity. "Micro-giving opportunities open an exciting new channel for motivating engagement and fostering loyalty. Traditionally, loyalty rewards have been largely transactional. Our partnership with ME to WE will enable us to connect with people in very meaningful ways. Loyalty points will now be able to change lives. Even very small contributions when aggregated create big opportunities for those less fortunate," said David Kristal, Augeo CEO.

"Every day women and children around the world spend more than 200 million hours fetching water, often from contaminated sources," says Craig Kielburger, Co-Founder, WE. "Access to clean water is one of the most fundamental and fastest ways to help lift a community out of poverty – it reduces illness, helps girls to go to school, and leads to stronger agricultural practices. Thanks to Augeo's support, redeeming points can change the life of a child, a mother, a family, or an entire community."

ME to WE's charitable partner, WE Charity, empowers communities to lift themselves out of poverty through a holistic, sustainable international development model. In partnership with local communities in nine countries, WE Charity implements a five-pillar development model designed to achieve sustainable change. Together with local leaders and families, lives are transformed with solutions that are adaptive, effective, and sustained long term by the community itself. To date, WE Charity has provided more than 1 million people with clean water, built more than 1,500 schools and school rooms. Programs have provided 200,000 children the opportunity to gain an education, helped families break the cycle of poverty, and empowered communities to help themselves.

The partnership, in conjunction with Augeo platform clients, will create socially conscious programs, products, and experiences that allow people to do good through their everyday experiences as an employee, as a customer while shopping, or as an engaged member of an organization.

"One of the most exciting elements of the new micro-giving program is that the Augeo platform will include regular feeds of information to all contributors," said Erik Sorensen, Augeo Chief Product Officer. "Redeeming loyalty points is now connected to a user's social values. Our users will see where each impact they have funded goes and track the progress of a school being built, a new clean water well being dug, or a local food program being developed. We expect to immediately see elevated user engagement and anticipate enhanced long term loyalty."
